Dear Friend,

With two grandchildren, and one more on the way, these days I'm all about real talk. Watching my grandson play soccer, I wonder if he'll be able to enjoy these priceless moments with his grands? Or, will children, the elderly, and other vulnerable populations of people have to limit time outdoors due to wretched air quality and unbearable heatwaves. Let's do our part to move away from polluting fossil fuels and expensive imported electricity. Let's get your electric bill lowered and your carbon footprint reduced. Right NOW, you can still tap into federal subsidies to cover the entire cost of your solar system. Need a new roof or electrical panel upgrade? Let's looking into how we might help with that as well.

We don't just sell solar panels. Our work is rooted in a deep commitment to honest and transparent customer service, environmental equity, empowering communities, and ensuring families and businesses reap the long-term health and economic benefits of transitioning to solar. Don't allow any preconceived notions to derail you. I see this too often. All we're asking for is a tiny block of time to show you the numbers, then decide if it makes sense for your family.
